BIRD MUNC I | Spring 2025

Dear Delegates,

I am so excited to be your chair for this committee. Gravity Falls lingers in my mind as the best and my favorite childhood show like many of you, the sense of adventure the show presented was breathtaking and innovative for a children's cartoon. Rather than embracing stereotypes of other cartoons, it takes risks and weaves comedy, adventure, and growing up into a surprisingly authentic experience. Watching the show more than a dozen times, I learned that it is not simply a children's show, but a rich character study into the lives of real people who have goals, flaws, strengths, and ambitions. I have been imagining what this committee would look like for nearly two and a half years, long before the knowledge of green-lighting of this conference. This is a love letter to my youth and my favorite show. If you have any questions reach out over email and I will respond as quickly as possible. Brush up on the world by watching the episode and good luck delegates!

UHDOLWB LV DQ LOOXVLRQ WKH XQLYHUVH LV D KRORJUDP EXB JROG EBH!

Hello delegates! My name is Thomas Quinn, and I am a senior from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. I am majoring in International Relations and minoring in Italian. This is my first time chairing a committee, but I have been to many conferences on the circuit and served as crisis director for Virginia Tech's high school conference. I have been a member of Model UN at Virginia Tech since my freshman year, have served on its officer board, and am currently a member of Secretariat for VTMUNC II. My twin brother and I, Matthew, who is the CD for his committee have been talking about potentially doing a Gravity Falls committee if Virginia Tech ever decided to host a conference, and our wish was granted. Outside of Model UN, I am a huge fan of many sports, especially hockey, football, soccer, and college basketball, and enjoy watching and playing them with my roommates and friends. I also enjoy playing video games, watching tv and movies, and reading. Much of my time pursuing these hobbies is spent with my twin brother, which is quite apropos to this committee. Please embrace the silliness of the show when preparing for the committee. Good Luck and Trust No One!

Best,

Thomas Quinn

Letter from the Co-Crisis Director

Dear Delegates,

Welcome to BIRDMUNC I! I am pleased to welcome you all to Blacksburg for our inaugural Model United Nations conference! My name is Matthew Quinn, and I will be serving as your Co-Crisis director for the Gravity Falls Mayoral Election. Gravity Falls is one of my favorite shows of all time, I hope you all embrace the wacky side of Gravity Falls for the weekend!

A little about me, I am a senior from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania studying International Relations and this is my first time being a crisis director. I am also a co-vice president of Model UN at Virginia Tech and the director general of BIRDMUNC I. I have been a member of Model UN at Virginia Tech since my freshman year and I am excited to be in the back room for a college conference for once. Outside of school and model UN, I love watching sports with my roommates and watching movies with my twin brother, Thomas. Thomas is the chair of this committee. One of my favorite activities is scrolling Letterboxd after I have watched a movie. I am also a huge fan of trivia and reading, mainly the A Song of Ice and Fire series.

For the purposes of this committee, I encourage you all to be familiar with the town of Gravity Falls and the lore of the secret weird side of the town. Please watch the “Stanchurian Candidate” episode before the committee. Gravity Falls may look like a sleepy lumber town from the outside, but it is anything but that. If you have any questions regarding the committee, feel free to reach out to me and remember, Trust no one!

Best,

Matthew Quinn

Letter from the Co-Crisis Director

Dear Delegates,

I am very happy to welcome you all to Blacksburg for the inaugural BIRDMUNC! My name is Kenshin Dean and I will be your co-Crisis Director for Trust No One?: Gravity Falls Mayoral Election. Gravity Falls was one of the shows that defined my childhood, so I am very excited to be able to share this experience with you.

A little more information about me, I am a junior from Yokosuka, Japan majoring in International Relations, and I have been a member at the Virginia Tech Model UN since last year. This will be my first time backrooming and I am very excited to be able to work with a college conference. Other than Model UN and school, my hobbies include surfing (badly), eating good food and hiking. I also love watching sports with my roommates. I am a Seattle sports fan who has never learned to lower my expectations for my teams.

As we embark on this crisis committee, I encourage you all to immerse yourselves in the quirky and mysterious world of Gravity Falls. The show's blend of humor and mystery makes it a great backdrop for a crisis committee. I hope you'll bring the same creativity and enthusiasm that made the show so special to BIRDMUNC. I look forward to seeing how you navigate the unexpectedly complex political landscape of the small town of Gravity Falls, Oregon. Will you uncover hidden conspiracies? Or perhaps stumble upon the supernatural phenomena that makes the show so good? Just remember this: In Gravity Falls, expect the unexpected!

Sincerely,
Kenshin Dean

Committee Overview

Background

Committee Overview

This committee is based off Season 2 episode 14 of the Disney animated television series Gravity Falls. The episode is entitled “Stanchurian Candidate” which is a reference to the 1962 original and 2004 remake of the movie “The Manchurian Candidate” which is a political thriller about an American who is brainwashed by North Koreans in POW camp during the Korean war to become an assassin for a Communist Conspiracy. The committee will start at the beginning of the episode in which the 103-year-old mayor of Gravity Falls dies, forcing an election. In the show, a humorous plot device is used for the main characters of the show, 12-year-old twins Dipper and Mabel Pines to get their hardly electable and morally questionable great uncle to run for office. The town of Gravity Falls has archaic rules on the qualifications of those being able to run for mayor, being the ability to cast a shadow, count to ten, and throw their hat in the ring provided by the town. With these rules, children are allowed to run for mayor so anyone in the committee has a fighting chance to win the office. The Committee will see the candidates try in real-life to complete the tasks that a mayor needs to and then run a campaign. The first sessions will be focused on declaring platforms for the campaign while the middle will act as mock debates for the candidates on the town’s most pressing issues, and the final session will be an election to decide the winner.

History and Background

Gravity Falls is a lumber town in Roadkill County, Eastern Oregon and is prone to attracting paranormal activity and supernatural occurrences. This is due to a spaceship crash landing and creating the Gravity Falls Valley. The town of Gravity Falls was founded in 1842 by the embarrassingly ridiculous 8 ½ president of the United States, Quenton Trembly, who discovered the valley while plummeting into it at high speed while riding his horse backwards. In the following decades, Gravity Falls became a popular destination for settlers travelling the Oregon Trail. Due to the shameful reputation of Quenton Trembly, the United States Government enacted the Northwest Coverup which replaced Quenton Trembly as the town founder with the local nobody named Nathaniel Northwest. From this point on, the Northwest Family became incredibly powerful and wealthy. Nathaniel became the mayor of Gravity Falls and convinced the townspeople to aid in building Northwest Manor. The Northwest family continued to lie and cheat their way into more wealth and have remained the most influential family in town.

Committee Background

Many townspeople died in the construction of Northwest Manor. The Northwest family promised to host a lavish party to pay thanks to those who contributed. This was another con by the Northwest family that led to the Great Flood of 1863 due to the lack of trees on the hills surrounding Northwest Manor. After he graduated from Backupsmore University, Stanford Pines received a grant to study the paranormal activity of the town. He moved to the forest on the border of Gravity Falls and built a cabin. While researching the paranormal activity of the town, he built an interdimensional portal that eventually sucked him in and stranded him in other dimensions for 30 years. He has recently returned to Gravity Falls due to the reopening of the portal by his twin brother Stanley Pines. Gravity Falls has slowly grown over the past 150 years, retaining many descendants of town founders and other families who have lived there since pioneer times.

Ciphers

One of the main themes of Gravity Falls is secrecy and mystery. One of the main ways the show uses this theme is through Ciphers. Ciphers are codes used to obscure the real meaning of a piece of text. For this committee's purpose, delegates must be familiar with the Caesar Cipher. The Caesar Cipher is a substitution cipher that requires substituting a letter for another letter. For example, 'Hello esteemed delegates' would turn into 'Khoor Hvwhphg ghohjdwhv'. The key for this cipher is +3, meaning you go forward 3 letters when writing a message.

Caesar Cipher used in Gravity Falls:

A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N	O	P	Q	R	S	T	U	V	W	X	Y	Z
D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N	O	P	Q	R	S	T	U	V	W	X	Y	Z	A	B	C

Current Situation & Questions to Consider

Current Situation

The long-time mayor of Gravity Falls, Eustace "Huckabone" Befufflefumpter has died. He was born in the early 1900s, raised by bears, possibly started WWI and was the mayor of Gravity Falls for almost a century. With his death, the town must elect a new mayor to fill his not so big shoes. According to the town charter of Gravity Falls, anyone who can cast a shadow, count to ten, and throw their hat into a literal ring, is allowed to run for mayor. The candidates for mayor will then debate in the Wednesday stump speech to explain their platform and the Friday debate in which the people will throw birds seeds at the candidate they like best, after which, the winner will be decided by a birdly kiss from a freedom eagle. There are opposing factions within the town that would love to be elected mayor to further their tourist-related interests and some who genuinely want the best for the town. Whether the delegates want to usher in a new era in Gravity Falls and catapult it into a safe and prosperous future or to run it is the base for a cult centered on old arcade games is up to them. Just remember, in Gravity Falls, there is no one you can trust.

Questions to Consider

What will be my platform to encourage the other delegates to support my campaign?

If I do not meet the qualifications for the office of mayor, how can I exert my influence on a candidate or the election as a whole?

How will I prevent fraud or other means of corruption during the election process?

What allies can I contact to propel my campaign bid?

Who are potential donors for my campaign?

Character Dossier

Mason “Dipper” Pines

Dipper is a twelve-year-old self-proclaimed mystery investigator. At the beginning of the summer, he found a mysterious journal written by an unknown author that opened his world to the secret and dangerous side of Gravity Falls. After finding the journal and rescuing his sister from a pack of gnomes, he committed his summer to investigate the mysteries of the town. On his quests to uncover the secrets of the town, he is accompanied by his twin sister and best friend Mabel Pines. They are staying at their Grunkle Stan's tourist trap he calls the Mystery Shack for the summer. Dipper is selfless, often giving up on his own goals or things he has worked for to help someone else and above all strives to make Mabel happy as she is one of his only friends. He is insecure about his body and feels awkward about the stage in life he is in but has many role models such as Stan, Soos, Wendy, and Ford to help him on his journey. The journal helps him find his courage through knowledge. He strives to learn as much as he can about Gravity Falls so, he can “unravel the mystery of the town”. He is the more pragmatic of the twins, leading to him taking life too seriously. He is competitive and a sore winner, despite the effects this has on others. The journal warned him to trust no one, but he often finds that working with others is the key to success while investigating the town’s mysteries.

Mabel Pines

Mabel is a twelve-year-old ball of perpetual energy who loves arts and crafts, her pet pig Waddles, hanging out with her two best friends Candy and Grenda and her family, and trying to find a big summer romance. She is the more outgoing of the twins and chooses to view life through a more positive and whimsical lens. Together, she and Dipper create the perfect dynamic duo. Mabel is comfortable in her own skin and embraces the characteristics she has because they make her who she is. Mabel does not care about if she is considered cool or popular, she only cares about the opinions of those who she is close with to guide her life. Mabel always wants to help people, but she will go to extreme lengths to do so. It's not because she is a control freak, but because she cares so much about the people she loves. She is also staying the summer in Gravity Falls at her Grunkle Stan's tourist trap where she helps by working at the cash register. Mabel is positive, sometimes at fault, and strives to be the best person she can be while helping others do the same. She can be over trusting and selfish at times, but in the end, she sacrifices what is needed for the betterment of everyone.

Stanley “Grunkle Stan” Pines

Grunkle Stan is the owner and operator of The World-Famous Mystery Shack, home to wonders and befuddlements never before seen by humans. He also has a twin, named Stanford, who has a genius-level IQ. Due to this, his parents favored Stanford and left Grunkle Stan with lingering resentment towards him and anyone who told him he wasn't good enough. Between his senior year of high school and the start of the series, Stan was a con artist looking for anyway to make a quick buck. He was in and out of jail for years and banned from numerous U.S. states. After a falling out with his brother which led to Stanford being sent to another dimension, he became the owner of the Mystery Shack and turned it into a tourist trap to pray on the tourists of the Pacific Northwest. He initially denies knowledge of the supernatural to the twins, only to protect them. Despite his seemingly cartoonish exterior as his alter ego “Mr. Mystery”, Stan is fiercely loyal to his family and above all else, saving his brother from the mess he caused.

Stanford “Ford” Pines

Ford Pines is the author of the mysterious journal that Dipper found in the woods, along with two others, and the original owner of the house that is now the Mystery Shack. Ford Pines was born with rare genetic birth defect, polydactyly, which gave him six fingers on each hand. As a child, he was ridiculed for this but always supported by his twin brother. He has a genius-level IQ, which made him the best student in school. He was going to attend the prestigious West Coast Tech, until his experiment was destroyed by Stan. This led to him attending Backupsmore University where he studied anomalies. After getting his PhD, he moved to Gravity Falls, Oregon, because it was a hot spot. He then began to study the town's oddities and was eventually visited by a muse who helped evolve his research to create a trans-dimensional portal. The initial experiment on the portal went wrong, leading to Ford's paranoia and hysteria rising until he called Stan to hide his research. They have a falling out and Ford is sent into a different dimension for 30 years. In the current story, he has just been brought back to his timeline and demands that after summer is over the mystery shack be shut down. His intellect can cause him to look down on those who do not share his passions or ambitions, and he gets frustrated at the hokey state of his house. He is willing to look past his brother's numerous flaws due to their shared past and brotherly love.

Wendy Corduroy

Wendy is a fifteen-year-old laid-back slacker who works at the Mystery Shack. She is rebellious, adventure seeking, and often finds ways to make work more enjoyable. She likes to hang out with her rowdy group of friends and explore the town through sneaking into abandoned buildings or hanging out in the cemetery. She is considered cool by Dipper and Mabel, acts like a big sister to Mabel and Dipper and is a crush of Dipper. Both of them also look up to her as a role model. She acts as Mabel's older sister by giving her advice about boys, inviting her and Dipper to hangouts, and having fun with her at work. She helps Dipper process his feelings about her and helps to make it less awkward. She is also cool and relaxed in the face of danger due to the preparations of her dad. She helps the twins take the awkward step between a pre-teen and a teenager by encouraging them to take risks and expand their interests. Wendy has an underlying animosity towards guys, specifically those who are her age because of how she has been treated by her exes. She is protective of her friends and of her right to have a good time. Her slacking can catch her in hot water, but she is willing to commit time that activities she deems are worth her time.

Jesús "Soos" Ramirez

Soos is a handyman in his early twenties who lives with his Abuelita and works at the Mystery Shack, where he spends most of his time. He has been working at the Mystery Shack since he was 12 and found out about the shack from a screwdriver left at his house during his birthday party. Soos is gentle natured, naive, and childish, but also resourceful, handy, and loyal. He is also prone to being clumsy and breaking things he is trying to fix. His goal is to help people and put their feelings before his own. He acts as an older brother figure to Dipper and Mabel and in his mind a surrogate son to Stan, who is his role model. Soos also acts as a bodyguard to the twins and one of the few people in Gravity Falls aware of and willing to investigate the supernatural. Despite his childish nature, Soos is calm in the face of danger and helps to calm down those who are not. Even with his flaws, Soos is fiercely devout to the Pines family, seeing them as a sort of adopted family, emphasized by his actions in the episode "Blendin's Game". He can act childish, but he knows how to treat people the correct way and has no enemies.

Candy Chiu

Candy Chiu is a twelve-year-old native of Gravity Falls. She is best friends with Grenda and later Mabel. She is shy and insecure about her appearance due to the hurtful words and actions of girls like Pacifica Northwest and her friends. She values individual expression even if it is outside the norm and prefers to spend her time with like-minded people. She enjoys spending time with her best friends and is more outgoing with them. Around the right people, she is just as sociable as Mabel and wants to be able to act this way around everyone. She is quick witted and the voice of reason in her friend group with Mabel and Grenda. She is willing to make hard decisions even if it doesn't benefit her or her ambitions.

Grenda Grendinator

Grenda is a twelve-year-old native of Gravity Falls. She is best friends with Candy and eventually Mabel as well. She is noted for her deep, masculine voice, stocky, muscular build, and tall stature. Due to her voice and height, she is a source of ridicule of popular girls like Pacifica Northwest. She is also insecure about her physical appearance and prefers to spend time with those who do not care about superficial characteristics. She enjoys spending time with her friends, watching tv, and talking about boys. Grenda is confident and does not care about the opinions of others on her personality. During the haunting of Northwest Manor, she was able to catch the attention of Austrian aristocrat Marius von Fundshauser due to her bold and charming nature. She is protective of Mabel and Candy's feelings, acting as the group's safety blanket. She is impulsive and quick to act but can often back up her actions with a hefty use of force.

“Lil” Gideon Gleeful

Gideon Gleeful is a ten-year-old former child psychic who had a large and dedicated fan base. He was not actually a psychic, but an enterprising conman along with his father. Gideon used to have the Second Journal written by Ford and an amulet that could control people and was the source of his “psychic” powers. Before being arrested, Gideon’s goal was to take over the Mystery Shack to further his own tourist trap, the Tent of Telepathy. He uses his cuteness and charm to manipulate people into giving him everything he wants. Mabel and Dipper stand up to him, which causes them to become enemies. He does not take no for an answer, even from his parents, and will stop at nothing to achieve his goals. He is spoiled, vengeful, rude, and jealous, great qualities for a two-faced figure with a cult of personality who uses his fame as a source of legitimacy. He is also classist and believes the people of Gravity Falls are beneath him and easy to manipulate. Jail will not stop Lil Gideon from putting who he wants to be on the mayor’s seat.

Buddy “Bud” Gleeful

Bud Gleeful is the father of Gideon Gleeful and the owner of a used car dealership. He is a conman who uses the guise of friendliness and kindness to draw suspicion away from his businesses. He helped to create the cult of personality surrounding Lil Gideon and managed and sustained his rise to fame. He capitalized on the naive nature of Gravity Falls residents and created the Tent of Telepathy to profit from them. He is also formally a member of the Blind Eye Society, a secret society that erased the memories of supernatural events from the minds of Gravity Falls residents, gaining access to their fears and memories along the way. This brainwashing made the population more willing to believe in a child psychic and furthered his influence in the community. Bud is a polite person that balances his son’s personality and is not afraid to act as an authority figure to Gideon. He is the financial and logistical backing of Gideon’s schemes and one of the most successful businessmen in the town. His influence on the hearts and minds of Gravity Falls residents cannot be understated.

Pacifica Northwest

Popular, wealthy, and entitled twelve-year-old Pacifica Northwest is the envy of Mable and her friends. Candy and Grenda are jealous of her lifestyle and perceived lack of problems in life. Pacifica is the only child of local aristocrat Preston Northwest and shares his attitudes that the Northwest family is better than the rest of Gravity Falls. Pacifica was carefully conditioned by her parents to be obedient and to protect the family name at all costs. She is forced by her parents to ignore all the ways that the Northwest family has exploited the people of Gravity Falls. She is an expert mini-golf player and often uses her family's wealth to get her way and win over people's favor. However, Pacifica is unlike other members of the Northwest family, she slowly builds a friendship with Dipper Pines and helps him rid Northwest Manor of a vengeful ghost. Pacifica is the first Northwest in 150 years to let in the townspeople to participate in the annual Northwest family summer party, known as the Northwest Fest. After letting the townspeople into the manor, Dipper, Mabel and their friends have a newfound respect for Pacifica.

Fiddleford "Old Man" McGucket

Once thought to be no more than the local hillbilly, Fiddleford 'Old Man' McGucket is secretly a genius inventor behind numerous inventions that have shaped Gravity Falls. Before he lost his mind, Fiddleford McGucket was Stanford Pines roommate at Backupsmore University. During this time, he had a knack for tinkering with computers and wanted to start his own personal computer company. He eventually moved to Gravity Falls to help Ford build the interdimensional gateway portal. During a mishap in the construction, Fiddleford ended up briefly going through the portal and seeing a horrible future for Gravity Falls. He immediately quit being Ford's partner and was traumatized by his experience on the other side of the portal. To cope with this trauma, he invented a memory erasing gun. This memory erasing gun led to the creation of the Blind Eye Society. The Blind Eye Society was a secret society that had the goal of erasing the memory of the local Gravity Falls residents whenever they saw any paranormal activity around the town. Fiddleford eventually went too far with the memory erasing and lost his memory. After this point, he started living in the town dump with his raccoon wife. However, Fiddleford did not forget how to invent incredible machines. He created a massive pterodactyl, an 80-ton shame bot, and the Gobblewonker Lake monster. Fiddleford eventually regained his memory after infiltrating the Blind Eye Society headquarters.

Preston Northwest

Preston Northwest is the owner of the Gravity Falls mudflap factory, which has helped him gain massive wealth yet has also polluted the environment leading to genetic abnormalities amongst animals. The Northwest family name is legendary amongst the people of Gravity Falls. They have been the wealthiest and most influential family since the founding of Gravity Falls in the mid-19th century. Preston is the descendant of the town founder, Nathaniel Northwest. He lives in the house, Northwest Manor, that was built for Nathaniel by the humble lumber folk of Gravity Falls. It is Northwest tradition to throw a lavish party every year during the summer and invite some of the most wealthy and powerful people in the world. Preston has established himself as a global elite with connections to numerous heads of state and members of royal families across the world. Due to a life of interacting with the most influential people on the planet, Preston looks down on the people of Gravity Falls. Preston, along with his wife, will do anything to protect the Northwest family name to ensure a prosperous future for their family. Preston will lie, cheat, or steal to preserve his family's status. His influence on the town and control is incalculable.

Sheriff Daryl Blubs

Sheriff Daryl Blubs is the head of the sleepy Gravity Falls Police Department. He along with his close companion deputy Durland are often caught up in hijinks rather than protecting and serving Gravity Falls. He and Deputy Durland are often lax in enforcing the law in Gravity Falls, oftentimes goofing off rather than doing their jobs. However, Sheriff Blubs has a baton and is willing to use it. While he is on duty, the biggest threats to the safety of Gravity Falls are the local teenagers who vandalize buildings and cause local disturbances around the town. Sheriff Blubs was also the holder of closely guarded state secrets at one point. For a time, he was one of a few people to have knowledge of the Northwest Coverup. The Northwest Coverup was a United States Government internal conspiracy to replace the town founder of Gravity Falls, Quentin Trembley III Esq., with local nobody Nathaniel Northwest. Quentin Trembley was the controversial 8 ½ president of the United States who discovered Gravity Falls. Outside of work, Sheriff Blubs was an avid fan of Gideon Gleeful before he put him in prison and is passionate about FCLORP. FCLORP is Foam and Cardboard Legitimate Outdoor Role-play.

Deputy Edwin Durland

The other half of the dynamic duo that makes up the Gravity Falls Police Department Deputy Edwin Durland is an enthusiastic young officer. While he may not be able to read, he is a loyal officer and enthusiastic about his work. Deputy Durland is trusting to a fault and is often deceived by multiple Gravity Falls residents. Along with his closest friend, Sheriff Blubs, his enthusiasm for his work is often overshadowed by silly situations that he finds himself in. Much like Sheriff Blubs, Durland is quick to use his baton. Deputy Durland was also briefed on the Northwest Coverup and is one of the few people to know the true founder of Gravity Falls. Deputy Durland is an avid waterslide enthusiast and fellow FCLORPer.

Tyler Cutebiker

Local enthusiasm enthusiast Tyler Cutebiker is the most positive person in all of Gravity Falls. Tyler has a knack for encouraging those around him with his patented phrase “git ‘em” and being a generally supportive person when other people are in times of need. He can also be a bit indecisive, like when he had to pick between a puma shirt or a panther shirt. Tyler is the ultimate team player, willing to support any other person in Gravity Falls. He is a caring and considerate person who tries to make all situations he encounters more positive.

“Manly” Daniel Corduroy

Daniel Corduroy is a lumber worker and father of Wendy Corduroy. He is noted for his massive stature and strength. Manly Dan is a strong proponent of using his right hand for all tasks. Manly Dan is an avid fisherman with his family and frequent patron of Skull Fracture, the local bar. Manly Dan is also an expert in survival skills, constantly prioritizing survival training and lumberjack skills over holidays. He is a fan of the boy band Sev’ral Times and is willing to defend his passion for them. Manly Dan is protective of his family and would do anything for them.

“Lazy” Susan Wentworth

Long time resident of Gravity Falls Lazy Susan Wentworth is a waitress at the popular breakfast spot Greasy’s Diner. Lazy Susan has a quirky sense of humor and like trying to fix things, even though she has no training to do so, and is caring to those she is close to. Lazy Susan has a storied past with the Pines family, gaining her iconic lazy eye due to a malfunction from one of the gadgets in the Myster Shack. Later on, she went on a date with Stan Pines, whom she had a crush on for many years. Like many other members of the Gravity Falls community, Lazy Susan had part of her memory erased by Blind Eye Society due to her seeing gnomes attempting to steal a pie from the window of Greasy’s Diner. Lazy Susan is also a cat lover, having 3 of them as pets.

Toby Determined

Famed for his unfortunate complexion, small stature, and catlike whiskers, Toby Determined is the owner and writer of the small-time newspaper, the Gravity Falls Gossiper. Unlike other real journalists, Toby uses a turkey baster as a microphone, a cinderblock as a camera, and writes for a small audience. In his past, Toby was determined to become a stage dancer, naming himself the Razz Dazzler, this career unfortunately went nowhere, and he has been in gravity falls ever since. Toby is constantly berated by local community members due to his unfortunate complexion. However, Toby does have access to the address of subscribers to his struggling newspaper. Toby, amongst other people, is a former member of the Blind Eye Society, a secret society that attempted to hide the dark secrets of Gravity Falls from the public. Along with Sheriff Blubs, Deputy Durland, and Soos, Toby participates in FCLORP. FCLORP is Foam and Cardboard Legitimate Outdoor Role-play.

Robert “Robbie” Valentino

Angsty, sarcastic, and troubled teen Robbie Valentino is the son of the local morticians, Greg and Janice Valentino. Robbie is tall and lanky with black hair and always wearing his classic stitched heart hoodie. Robbie is a friend of Wendy and the other teenagers of Gravity Falls. Robbie often finds himself in trouble with the local police officers for vandalizing buildings with spray paint. Most notably, he spray-painted the local water tower with a giant explosion that looks like a muffin. Robbie is a guitar player, leading his band Robbie V. and the Tombstones. He briefly dated Wendy Corduroy before she found out that he was controlling her mind with a song. After their breakup, Robbie felt lost until he started dating Tambry. Robbie had a long-standing rivalry with Dipper Pines over who should be able to date Wendy. After Robbie and Wendy broke up, Robbie claimed that Dipper ruined his life.
